

LOST AND DAMAGED ITEMS¹

Hussey-Mayfield Memorial Public Library patrons who lose or damage Library materials will be responsible for the replacement cost of each item and may also be charged a set fee per item to cover the time and materials necessary to restore the item to the Hussey-Mayfield Memorial Public Library collection.

If a part of a set of items has been lost or damaged by a patron and the lost part cannot be replaced without replacing the entire set, the replacement cost for the entire set will be charged to the patron.

If an exact duplicate of a lost or damaged item, excluding audio books, is given to the Hussey-Mayfield Memorial Public Library by the customer who lost or damaged it, a fee to cover the time and materials spent above the item cost may be charged.

Copies of items that were formerly a part of other libraries' collections cannot be accepted as replacements for lost or damaged items in the Hussey-Mayfield Memorial Public Library collection.

If a lost or damaged item is out of print, the patron will be charged a default price, which is based on the current average retail cost for the type of item, e.g. book.

If a patron loses or damages accompanying materials associated with a Hussey-Mayfield Memorial Public Library item, a set fee to replace the item will be assessed.

Other Evergreen Indiana member libraries may have different policies and Hussey-Mayfield Memorial Public Library patrons must abide by the policies used by these other libraries if they lose or damage library materials owned by other libraries.
